Question #3. For your answer to Question #1, please share what specific reason(s) you think the S&P500 will be heading the direction you chose.

"Higher" Respondent Answers:

- It follows the current trend.
- Large cap earnings will drive market to higher
- seasonality
- Long term trend

"Lower" Respondent Answers:

- Virus
- Corona virus slowing down the world for at least one quarter
- Corona Virus
- Chinese virus spread and fears. Market is due for a correction.
- That varse in Janpan
- Market has risen much more than justified based on corporate earnings. The last time that the market looked this overbought following a long leg up was in late Jan 2018; and then the market dropped hard.
- Big week for earnings disappointments. The virus continues to spread.
- Natural pullback
- Tda, tasty trade
- It's that time of the year.
- Technical
- the China outbreak continues and will worsen
- Impeachment trail
- cause it closed deeper on Friday last week
- It's time for a correction, if it goes lower by Friday than this week ending 24/1/20 then lower again.

Question #4. What procedures do you use for trade management?

- risk
- stops
- Stop Loss
- support / resistance
- Stop sell or buy back loss orders
- Usually about equal levels spread over several stocks.
- Trail using moving averages
- Stop loss
- I am still looking for a good trading-journal, that fits my needs.... I still did not find that. Then I need to grow a tiny account to a bigger one, which makes trade management possible. You need at least a few couple of thousand bucks to make tradde Management possibl, right? You can't do that with a 1k-account. After reaching a mangable trade size of 2-3k then there is it makeable to hold on managemnet-rules as 1-2% max.risk per trade. For all that I still need a trading-journal to track my trades first...
